

CEREMONY & RECEPTION

Mariemont Community Church
Memorial Chapel

BRIDAL ATTIRE

St. Patrick, Bridal and Formal

GROOM'S ATTIRE

Folchi's Formal Wear

DESSERT

Cinnabon

PHOTOGRAPHY

Jonathan R. Willis

WEDDING PLANNER

Dora Manuel, Viva Bella Weddings
and Events

FLORIST

Joni Sherman, Mt. Lookout Sprouts

cone Larnold

ALISSA EMERY CONE AND NICHOLAS Todd Arnold are now what Miami University alumni refer to as a "Miami Merger." When it came time to marry, "I wanted to be married in Mariemont where I had grown up," says Alissa of the couple's May 13 ceremony.

Her gown, by St. Patrick, was reminiscent of the 1940s. Her headpiece, cathedral veil and blusher were all hand-made by her dear friend and bridesmaid Jennifer Zimmerman, a local metals and fiber artist. Even Alissa's rings are one-of-a-kind. Nick designed Alissa's rings himself and had them custom made.

Before the ceremony, Alissa's dad took private lessons in preparation of their father-daughter dance to Louis Armstrong's "What a Wonderful World." Since both Alissa and Todd dislike cake, they chose Cinnabon as their wedding sweet, topped with a very trendy miniature bride and groom, of course. Following the reception, it was off to Costa Rica for their honeymoon. —STEPHANIE A. CREECH

